ANNUAL REPORT.

To the Legislature:

The Inspectors of State Prisons, in accordance with the requirements of law, have the honor to submit the following report of the important trust committed to their charge, for the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1869.

This report, with the report of the principal officers of the several prisons, and the elaborate tables of statistics accompanying, embrace all the details of our prison management for the past year, together with such suggestions and recommendations as are believed to be worthy of your consideration.

In the following statement of earnings and expenditures, the earnings are represented by cash paid into the treasury, moneys due and uncollected, and stock and material on hand. Stock and material are included at the valuation of the sworn appraisers :

SING SING PRISON.

FINANCES.

The deficiency of this prison is much less than for many years, which is attributable to the State working the quarries, about which there has been so much of censure at the course taken by the inspectors in the purchase of the contract and fixtures pertaining thereto. Even under present restraints, some perhaps necessary and others not, the working of the quarries by the State solves the problem of how to make this prison self-sustaining. To attain the best results from working the quarries, an appropriation should be made, large enough to provide for the purchase at lowest prices, of sufficient materials to carry the business through the season of high prices.

The gratifying results of the past year have been wrought by only three lime kilns; and at present but one is in operation, for want of wood to burn the stone. Yet, under these circumstances, we are enabled to lay before you the following results, no part of which can be attributable to the contracts now being worked at this prison, which are paying about one-third less than the support of the men they employ. We have, however, been compelled to let men at these low prices, or keep them idle in their cells.

The earnings and expenditures (for ordinary support) for the last two years were as follows :

	1868.	1869.
Expenditures	$299,893 66	$351,082 57
Earnings	171,250 03	264,099 12
Deficiencies	$128,643 69	$86,983 45

Showing a gain over last year of $41,660.24.

Kilns.—We recommend the erection of at least ten more lime kilns. We should produce 1,000 to 2,000 barrels of lime per day, and even then the demand would not be supplied.

Lime Sheds.—Large and commodious sheds for storage of lime through the winter season should be erected.

Farm.—The value of farm products, pork, soap, etc., are $4,300.50, and should properly be deducted from the above deficiency, leaving actual deficiency $82,682.95.

CONTRACTS.

The following contracts existed at this prison, September 30, 1869:

CONTRACT.	Contractor.	Commencing.	Expiring.	Number on contract.	Number employed.	Price per day.
Malleable iron.....	J. G. Johnson & Co	Jan. 1, 1869..	Sept. 30, 1869..	60	68	$0.40

Saddlery hardware.....	Peter Hayden.....	July 1, 1869..	July 1, 1870..	150	155	0.50

APPROPRIATIONS REQUIRED.

For Docks.—Extension and repairs, $10,000. The amounts heretofore appropriated are expended, and yet much requires to be done to put the docks in proper condition. The refuse matter from the quarry is constantly being used for filling and making new ground; this requires to be protected by new cribbing; piers, and slips should be constructed to protect vessels while loading and unloading, it now being unsafe in rough weather for vessels to come to the docks. Much of the face wall on the river front requires to be renewed. This property is valuable and is constantly being increased in area, and should be carefully protected.

For Lime Kilns.—For four lime kilns, five thousand dollars. The real interests of the State would be to build ten or fifteen.

Sheds.—For new lime sheds and new cooper shop, five thousand dollars.

Stone Crushers and Marble Mills.—For two stone crushers and two marble dust mills, two thousand dollars.

By this small outlay a large and remunerative business might be carried on, giving light labor for invalids and crippled persons who have heretofore been a source of great annoyance to the prison officers, and of no service.

For Repairs on Steam Engine.—Twelve hundred dollars. This engine was purchased of the Montauk Auger Company, and is an excellent engine, but needs thorough repairs before being used.

For Trestle Work, Railroad Iron and Ties.—Two thousand dollars.

For Heading and Stave Machine.—One thousand dollars.

For Barrel-heating Apparatus.—Five hundred dollars.

For Completing Chapel.—Fifteen hundred dollars. This work has been nearly complete for over a year. New seats, platform and altar are required.

For New Pump for Mess Room.—Twelve hundred dollars.

For Store Room.—For rebuilding and enlarging the present structure, two thousand dollars.

For General Repairs to Buildings.—Fifteen thousand dollars. This amount is much needed to preserve as well as make tenantable a large portion of the shops and other buildings. The roof of the south foundry has lately fallen in, and others are not much better.

SUMMARY OF APPROPRIATIONS RECOMMENDED.

For docks.....	$10,000 00
four new kilns.....	5,000 00
lime sheds and cooper shop.....	5,000 00
two marble mills.....	1,000 00

completing chapel.....	1,500 00
new pump for mess room.....	1,200 00
rebuilding and enlarging store room.....	2,000 00
general repairs to buildings.....	15,000 00
deficiency of Bibles and hymn books (required by law).....	750 00
maintenance (rations, salaries, etc.,).....	265,000 00
Total.....	$312,150 00

For support of quarry works per month (as now provided), $7,000. Should the works be operated on a more liberal scale, we would recommend an appropriation of $25,000 a year in lieu of $7,000 per month, to be used as a permanent working capital.

The principal officers are: Henry C. Nelson, Agent and Warden; C. C. Childs, Clerk; ——— Crofut, Principal Keeper; Isaac G. Collins, Physician and Surgeon; Richard L. Schoonmaker, Chaplain.

IMPROVEMENT AND REPAIRS.

We recommend the following improvements and repairs to be provided for at this prison:

For putting water in hospital, wings, dwellings, offices and shops from main of city water works, now in the yard, $1,500.

For Hose.—For 1,500 feet of leather hose, $2,800.

For Painting.—For painting tin roofs on shoe-tool machine, old tool and cabinet shops, kitchen and store room, $550.

For Hospital.—For repairing old hospital, $500.

For repairing and flooring keepers' hall and hall leading to chapel and hospital, $600.

For repairing stairs and floor on galleries in north and south wing, $500.

For permanent improvements, $1000.

APPROPRIATIONS REQUIRED.

For Maintenance.—The cost of maintenance at this prison will probably be not less than last year, and we placed it at $170,000.

CLINTON PRISON.

The following is the financial result of the workings of this prison for the past year :

Expenditures	$317,309 70
Earnings	257,256 79
Deficiencies	$60,052 91

The deficiency at this prison is not wholly unanticipated, owing to the low price of nails, on the manufacture of which most of the convicts are employed, a small amount only of merchant iron being made. There has also been quite a period that manufacturing ceased, while improvement was being made in machinery for the purpose of making a more perfect nail. The product, therefore, for the year is short of last year, but a very desirable result has been attained in an improved article. We are now able to furnish the market with a superior nail, and there is no reason why they should not sell as high as any nail made. There has been added to the plank road leading from the prison to the northern railroad, nearly five miles of plank-ing and but little more is required to be done to complete it. This road is of great benefit to the prison, as it passes through the prison wood lands on which are located most of the coal kilns; also a saw mill from which we manufacture plank for the road, lumber for the works and material for nail kegs, etc.

APPROPRIATIONS REQUIRED.

For Manufacturing.—The support of the manufacturing business will require the same amount as last year, namely, $190,000.

For Maintenance.—We estimate the ordinary support at $126,000.

FEMALE PRISON.

We are gratified to report a less number of inmates at this prison than there has been in two years. There was one hundred and twenty-two remaining September 30, 1869; eleven less than last year, and thirty-eight less than the year ending September 30, 1865.

CONTRACT.

One hundred women are contracted to Wm. H. Skidmore, in the manufacture of clothing. Owing to decrease in numbers, since the letting of the contract, it has been impossible to furnish the required number thereon.

ASYLUM FOR INSANE CONVICTS.

The report from this institution is gratifying. Through the able management of its superintendent we are able to show a decrease in expenses amounting to three thousand nine hundred and twenty-one dollars and sixty-nine cents less than the previous year, as follows :

Expenditure for 1868.....	$17,876 61
Expenditure for 1869.....	13,954 92
Decrease	$3,921 69

RECOMMENDATIONS.

As heretofore, we call attention to the propriety and justice of a law providing that the treatment and maintenance of such patients as are still insane and unfit for discharge, on expiration of their terms, be made a charge against the counties wherein they were sentenced. An enactment of this character would be but a matter of justice, and would largely decrease the expense of the asylum to the State.

New Roof.—There should be no hesitancy in making a sufficient appropriation to newly roof the main buildings of the asylum to save the walls and interior from ruin. The cost as heretofore recommended, is estimated twenty-eight hundred dollars.

Fire Hose.—One thousand feet of fire hose is much needed, the old hose being worthless. Eighteen hundred dollars is required for this purpose.

Paints and Repairs.—The necessity for painting is very apparent when it is known that the wood-work has not been painted since the erection of the asylum. Some of the floors are in a very dilapidated condition, and should be replaced with new ones. For this purpose we recommend one thousand dollars.

Water Pipe.—Steps are in progress to introduce water into the asylum from the Auburn City Water Works. One thousand dollars is required to furnish water pipe and fixtures to complete the same.

Enlargement.—It has become an absolute necessity to enlarge the asylum. There is at the present time, and has been for some time past, a much larger number of patients than there are rooms. Many insane are unavoidably retained in each prison much to the detriment of the patient and to discipline and good order. At present the superintendent is compelled to put two insane persons in one room, and make beds for them in the halls. We recommend your attention to this matter, and ask that an appropriation of a sufficient sum be made to build the enlargement.

APPROPRIATIONS REQUIRED.

For Maintenance.—We recommend the same amount as appropriated last year, seventeen thousand dollars.

SUMMARY OF APPROPRIATIONS RECOMMENDED.

GENERAL REMARKS.

For details and more general information you are referred to the very able reports of the principal officers connected with the different prisons and the asylum, and we feel it both a pleasure and duty to testify to the general ability and faithfulness of the officers of these several institutions. Many have labored under disadvantages from a lack of the requisite knowledge and familiarity with prison duties; a general change of nearly all the officers having been made during the current year, the result of a change in the political majority in the board of inspectors. We bear witness however, to the evident desire of all, or nearly all, to perform faithfully the arduous duties of their different departments. An impression seems to prevail in some quarters that a large amount of fleecing is done by prison officials, from the State. We simply ask, does any one know of an ex-prison official that has become rich while in office? Not an instance can be found; and as a general thing they are poorer than when accepting the office. [We call attention to the report of the Prison Association for 1868, and ask a just and candid public to pass judgment on the author or authors of that part of their report which presumes to question the honesty and integrity of those in charge of our State prisons; evidence taken or pretended to have been taken from officers discharged for misconduct, such as trading with convicts, bringing to them prohibited articles, including even whiskey, from outside the prison. Another source of their information is from convicts, and this gossip is dressed in beautiful language, giving the public impressions as false as the pretended testimony. With regard to the low price for which convict labor has been let, we affirm it to have been the best we could do; and as there was but one other alternative, that of keeping the men locked in their cells, we chose the least of two evils. The purchase of the quarry contract has been a fruitful theme for censure. We challenge investigation in this as in all other official acts of the inspectors. The report of the Prison Association, page 523, says: "But as there had been no inventory of items, when Sands sold to Walker, so there was none when Walker sold to the Inspectors." This is untrue; Walker did furnish an inventory to the Inspectors long before their determination to purchase from him; and we believe now, as we did then, that the property specified in said inventory was not over valued. By referring to the report of the sworn appraisers for this year, we are more than satisfied with our action at that time, as, with no considerable addition having been made in the interim, we find the inventory of the marble and lime works foots up the round sum of $76,324.40, and we find also, from the report of the agent and warden, that there has been a gain, over last year of $41,660.24, which is entirely due to the marble and lime works. We believe that with additional lime kilns, and with a proper amount of working capital, that after the coming year this prison will be no expense to the State. Under our present prison laws, this would truly be a wonderful success.

Respectfully your obedient servants,

JOHN HAMMOND,

S. SCHEU,

D. B. McNEIL,

Inspectors of State Prisons.

SING SING PRISON.

AGENT AND WARDEN'S REPORT.

SING SING PRISON, Oct. 1, 1869.

To the Honorable the Inspectors of State Prisons of the State of New York :

GENTLEMEN.—I have the honor to submit to you my report as agent and warden of this prison for the fiscal year just closed.

I entered upon the duties of my position January 26, 1869, and consequently have had personal supervision and charge of affairs only about two-thirds of the year.

I will not occupy your attention by detailed comparisons. The difficulties necessarily incident to an entire change in the officers of the prison we have encountered and surmounted, and matters are now in as favorable a condition as at any former period.

I, however, call your attention to the gratifying financial results of the past year, showing a reduction of deficiency of $41,660.18, as compared with last year. In some directions our expenses have exceeded those of last year, owing to the improvements and repairs which we have considered necessary to inaugurate, but this favorable general result cannot but be gratifying to you as it is to me.

A reference to the elaborate tables and the accompanying reports of other principal officers will place you in possession of all the details of information which you may require concerning the prison affairs during the last year.

I respectfully recommend that you ask of the Legislature, appropriations as follows :

For docks	$10,000 00 .
four new lime kilns	5,000 00 .
new lime sheds and cooper shops	5,000 00 .
two marble mills	1,000 00 .
two stone crushers	1,000 00 .
repairs to steam engines	1,200 00 .
trestle-work, railroad iron and ties	2,000 00 .
heading and stave machine	1,000 00 .
barrel-heating apparatus	500 00 .
completing chapel	1,500 00 .
new pump for mess room	1,200 00 .
rebuilding and enlarging store room	2,000 00 .
general repairs to buildings	15,000 00 .
	$46,400 00

These expenditures are absolutely necessary to put this institution in proper condition to enable us to reach the best result.

Please except my thanks for your uniform courtesy and kind support of my administration.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,

HENRY C. NELSON,

Agent and Warden.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT,

FOR THE YEAR ENDING SEPTEMBER 30TH, 1869.

HOSPITAL SING SING PRISON, }
September 30th, 1869. }

GENTLEMEN.—In accordance with law and usage I herewith respectfully submit, as medical officer of this prison, my report for the past fiscal year.

The general health in both prisons has been good. We have had no prevailing or epidemic disease except during the early part of July. Diarrhœa and dysentery began to increase, which were readily checked by the exclusive use of Croton water. I refer you to my monthly reports as to information regarding the diseases and their treatment, the condition when received and discharged, of the patients admitted in hospital during the year, and to mortuary report appended to this for the names and diseases of those who have died.

There have been three deaths from casualties during the year—two males and one female. The males from the effect of gun-shot wounds received while outside the guards attempting to escape, the female from injuries received from a blast in the quarry.

The articles of food furnished by the Agent and Warden have been adapted to the season of the year, and were of a wholesome, nutritious character.

The Agent and Warden has promptly filled all requisitions that I have made on him, and all the other officers of the prison have assisted me to the best of their ability in carrying out the different sanitary regulations I have felt called upon to suggest.

I feel deeply grateful to you all for your uniform courtesy and kindness, while I remain,

Respectfully yours,

ISAAC G. COLLINS, M. D.,

*Medical Officer Sing Sing Prison.*STATE OF NEW YORK, }
WESTCHESTER COUNTY, } ss.:

I, Isaac G. Collins, physician of Sing Sing Prison, being duly sworn, depose and say that the accompanying report is correct and true according to the best of my knowledge and belief.

ISAAC G. COLLINS.

CHAPLAIN AND TEACHER'S REPORT

FOR THE YEAR ENDING SEPTEMBER 30TH, 1869.

To the Honorable Board of Inspectors of Sing Sing Prison :

GENTLEMEN.—I have the honor to hand you herewith my first report as the Chaplain of this prison. Owing to the short time that I have occupied this position during the last fiscal year, I am not able to lay before you a full report, but will endeavor to present to you such statements and suggestions as a limited experience during the last eight months has taught me. The position of a Chaplain in an institution of this kind is a very delicate and precarious one, as it places him often between the officers and prisoners as a kind of counselor and mediator; for physical and moral evil are so intimately connected that those who are administering relief to the one cannot be indifferent to the other. It needs, therefore, what I am happy to say I have enjoyed, to the extent of their time and opportunities, an active and cordial co-operation between the Chaplain and the other officers of the prison, and to enable him to exercise religious and moral influence in a large and wider scope. This position must be carefully and constantly recognized, and duly understood and appreciated. It is a position the delicacy and difficulties of which can only be known to and estimated by those who have been called to occupy it; and even to such, the more extended the experience the greater will be the realized responsibility. If acquainted with its nature, fewer, perhaps, would covet it.

Much has been said and written in regard to prison reform and management, and by men of more experience and riper judgment than I would pretend to lay claim to. Yet, I may be permitted to add my humble voice to that of those who claim that the reformation of prisoners can be achieved, if not only, at least better, by the power of kindness; by a religious and moral influence, extended not merely by empty words, but in practical moral assistance whenever needed. Punishments are not to avenge, but to reform. A kind, practical, moral influence, therefore, being the chief feature in the reformation of prisoners, our aim should be to find proper means to exert the same in the right time and in the proper place. Punishment, with reformation for its end, and kindness as its means, it has been truly said is an old relation which comes down to us through the sanction of an authority that none may question. Kindness was God's own device to win back man's love and obedience. Authority may command and terrors affright, but love alone can open, soften and subdue the heart. Howard, the world renowned philanthropist, as the result of his extensive observation, tells us, that convicts are not ungovernable; that there is a way of managing even the most desperate amongst them, and that way is without, in the least, relaxing the steadiness of a calm, rigorous and resolute discipline; to treat them with tenderness and humanity, that the manifestations of good will and heartfelt kindness always carry with them a softening, purifying and redeeming influence. Such was the conviction of this great and sagacious observer and philanthropist, after years of intercourse with criminals of all classes. This conclusion, it appears to me, must meet the approval of every calm and enlightened judgment.

The prisoners are permitted to write only once every three months to their relations or friends, unless by special permit of your honorable body. It has been my duty, until lately, to have the correspondence between the prisoners and their friends entirely under my charge, so that I was enabled to become more and better acquainted with the history and character of each individual convict; and I venture to state that no better and more practical influence is exerted upon the prisoner than by permitting him to exchange words of love and admonition with his friends at home. The link which still exists even in the worst criminals, and by law of nature should be kept alive between husband and wife, father and child, brother and sister, friend and friend, ought not to be overlooked as of no importance in the reformation of our fellow men. A simple letter from a child to its father, from the wife to her husband, from the sister to her brother, couched in loving words, enjoining upon them the wisdom and necessity of obedience to the laws of the prison, and a proper respect to its officers, has more influence than the fear and dread of punishment. I, therefore, respectfully suggest to extend the privilege of writing to once every two months.

Religious exercises have been regularly held in both the male and female chapels, and I have had no reason at all to complain of the want of due and respectful attention on the part of the prisoners. I have been careful to avoid every kind of sectarianism which might prove obnoxious to the feelings and views of any of the prisoners, presenting myself, and permitting others to present only those great moral duties and doctrines of religion in reference to which there could reasonably be no disagreement. Of the results I cannot certainly judge. I am hopeful and believe that some, if not much good has been accomplished.

I have in addition to those Sabbath services, given in both prisons such private religious counsel and instructions as circumstances have called for, and my other official duties permitted. The weekly prayer meetings, established by the venerable Rev. John Luckey in 1862, have been held regularly on each Wednesday afternoon. The names of those convicts who are desirous of attending are recorded in a book kept for that purpose.

Half an hour before the appointed time of service, one of the guards, accompanied by the messenger convict clerk of my office, goes around and gathers the men and brings them to the chapel. My practice is to preside, and superintend the meeting. Those of the convicts who are so disposed, are given the liberty of offering prayer and making brief addresses; these, for the most part, are earnest, and bear good evidences of sincerity. It is impossible to judge of motives and results; but it is my firm conviction that much good is accomplished. The opinion now so prevalent, that all measures for the reformation of criminals are unavailing, except such as are based upon religion, is one of sound wisdom. Among the agencies and influences adapted to promote men's moral and religious welfare, the social prayer meeting occupies a prominent position, and I should deeply regret to see it discouraged or discontinued.

Another great object to be aimed at, in the reformation of convicts, is to engage their attention and ally their minds to something which will exalt and ennoble them. To accomplish this, too much care cannot be bestowed in imparting to them useful knowledge. Not only should religious books and tracts be placed frequently within their reach, but such other useful books as are calculated to enlist their interest and create an appetite for reading. Once awaken such a desire, and excite such an interest, and we have every reason to look forward to the happiest results. In many instances the convicts become great readers. A well selected library will not only aid in dispelling the gloom of prison life, but will necessarily tend to elevate and inspire them to look forward to the future with the brightest hopes, more enlightened views, and a greater respect for the community in which their lot may be cast when released from prison.

This is a subject I would respectfully commend to your serious care and attention. Books will naturally, from constant handling and perusal, become soiled and dilapidated, and in a short time be rendered unfit for use. In such case, the library should be immediately replenished with new and appropriate selections.

If our State prisons are erected for the punishment of crime, and designed to be the means of reformation in the case of those who become their inmates, it is the wisdom and duty of the Legislature to do all within its power to accomplish this object. Lavish expenditures in the purchase of books and other means of reform, in this particular, is not required, but we may certainly and respectfully ask the State to provide each prison with a sufficient and well selected library. How natural for the convict, after his daily toil is over, to long for something to interest his mind and drive away the gloom that constantly lingers around his cell. Should it be the pleasure of the Legislature, as well as an acknowledged duty, to make such appropriations, from time to time, as will secure this much desired object, a prayer of gratitude will be offered up by those whose crime and misfortunes have made them the recipients of such a favor. I may be permitted to add, while on this subject, that no additions have been made to our present library from any legislative appropriations for nearly three years. I have, however, gratefully to acknowledge the presentation, lately, of over 300 new and valuable books from the Conference of St. Vincent De Paul, of New York city, for which a suitable note of thanks was returned by the executive head of the prison; also, a donation of over fifty dollars from some unknown individual, to be expended, under the supervision of the Chaplain, in the purchase of suitable religious books. In connection with those, there is an appropriation of four hundred dollars ($400) by the Legislature last winter, which is immediately, according to a resolution of your honorable Board, to be expended in procuring suitable books of a miscellaneous character. From these sources a handsome and valuable addition will be made to our library. The American Tract Society has kindly continued its usual appropriation of 600 tracts every quarter. These have been regularly and carefully distributed. The American Bible Society has donated fifty Bibles, to be presented to such convicts, when their term of sentence expires, as in my judgment will duly appreciate them and properly improve them.

One great source of evil to which I may be permitted to refer, arises from the crowded condition of this prison. The crimes of all convicts are not alike in the eyes of the law, any more than are their natures and dispositions; the good influences which might control the willing heart in its desire for reformation will be chilled and frozen by bringing promiscuously together the youthful criminal, who, for the first time has committed the act which has consigned him to a prison, with the vicious and hardened criminals whose hearts have become callous to the more tender and generous impulses of humanity. From this indiscriminate association, it has been truly said: "That our jails and State prisons are but public schools, maintained at the expense of the State for the encouragement of vice and for providing succession of thieves, burglars and profligates." "Institutions," as another able writer on this subject observes, "in which the petty larceny stripling, being thrown in constant contact with mature and accomplished villains, listens to their pleasant narratives of successful crime, and pants for the hour of freedom, that he may be in the same bold and interesting career." This evil can only be cured by a radical change of the system. On no subject are the enlightened friends of prison reform more generally agreed, than on the necessity of a total change in regard to such promiscuous intercourse and association of convicts. Its necessary influence is to make a State prison promotive rather than suppressive of crime. In the language of a forcible writer on this subject: "The conversation of prisoners thus thrown promiscuously together is easily surmised; it relates almost wholly to the crimes they perpetrated before their conviction, or to those meditated after their liberation. In such conversations each one boasts of his misdeeds; all dispute for the priority in infamy, and in the end an equilibrium in vice and crime is reached by the whole, or nearly the whole. The least advanced in crime listens eagerly to the greater, and the blackest individual becomes a type of depravity for the others." Here is a work, indeed, for friends of prison reform; and though it is one that requires great wisdom and labor, it can be successfully done. One other subject to which I would desire to call the attention of your honorable board, and in which I think the welfare of discharged convicts is deeply concerned, is the inadequate provision made for their wants when about leaving the prison.

The rule, I believe, is to give each convict upon his discharge the sum of four dollars, a little I am informed is added if the convict's point of destination is too remote to enable him, with the appropriation specified, to defray his necessary traveling expenses. The consequences are that he is thrown again, with all the reproaches attached of having been an inmate of a State prison, upon the world without the means necessary to sustain him until he can find some employment. Temptations numerous and severe to a renewed course of crime thus assail him, and it is not strange that under such a pressure of circumstances he should sometimes yield and pursue again a course of infamy and transgression. I am not alone in my convictions that this is the secret of the return of many a convict to his former abode of ignominy and punishment; except in cases where they have friends able and willing to contribute to their support until they can help themselves, or in which they have accumulated some means by over work. I would respectfully suggest that the Board should increase the amount given to convicts upon their discharge from prison. This would be, in my judgment, both merciful and wise.

I have omitted to mention, under the proper head, that suitable funeral services are always held over the bodies of deceased convicts, both in the Chapel and at the grave.

Their friends are immediately notified of their decease, and the remains are given over to them for removal if they so elect.

I would, also, in closing my report, respectfully suggest that the rules governing convicts here, during their incarceration, should be printed and a copy placed in the hands of each one, on his reception, so that he may not have occasion or any ground for the pleading, as many do now on being punished, that he was ignorant of the rules of the prison.

Appended is the teacher's report and statistical report. My thanks are due to your honorable Board, and the prison officers generally, for the consideration they have shown me, and the aid rendered me in discharge of my duty.

With high consideration, I remain

Your obedient servant,

RICHARD L. SCHOONMAKER,

Chaplain, Sing Sing Prison.

Sing Sing, October 1st, 1869.

TEACHERS' REPORT.

Rev. Mr. SCHOONMAKER, Chaplain Sing Sing Prison :

Rev. Sir.—The undersigned, teachers in the Sing Sing Prison, most respectfully report for the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1869, as follows :

The number that have received instruction during the year, viz :

Spelling and reading.....	546
Writing	200
Arithmetic.....	337
Grammar	20
Geography.....	15
	1,118

A few pursue more than one study. The actual number of lessons given would probably exceed twelve hundred.

In general the men are attentive, and apparently take an interest in their studies, and make more rapid improvement than would usually be expected from men in their situation. Many in a few months learn to spell and read easy lessons. All are pleased with the opportunity afforded them to acquire or improve their education. We are treated with respect, and with few exceptions never hear vulgar or profane words from a pupil.

At present we are very much in want of slates. There is probably one hundred that desire to learn to write, but cannot for want of slates. We most earnestly call your attention to this matter, and if agreeable to your views, ask you to furnish each teacher with twenty-five slates as soon as convenient.

With earnest wishes for your continued health and happiness, we remain with much respect,

Your obedient servants,

GEO. W. ALLISON.
JOHN D. WATSON.

AUBURN PRISON.

AGENT AND WARDEN'S REPORT.

To the Honorable Board of Inspectors of State Prisons of the State of New York :

GENTLEMEN.—The agent and warden of the Auburn prison, in conformity to law, begs respectfully to submit to you the following report :

As you are aware I entered upon my duties as agent and warden on the 10th day of February, 1869, more than four months after the commencement of the fiscal year, my report embraces the full transactions of the prison for the year commencing October 1st, 1868, and ending September 30th, 1869.

Two fires have occurred in the prison within the last eight months; one of which destroyed the buildings occupied by Messrs. Barber, Sheldon & Co., in their axle contract, thus occasioning the loss of the labor of most of the convicts employed by them until another building could be made ready for their use.

The expenses of the prison have also been increased by this fire, which destroyed the kitchen and store room and a quantity of the provisions and stores on hand. Fresh supplies had to be purchased at once without an opportunity being afforded for making such arrangements as would have been the case had not this fire occurred.

The expiration of the machine contract for one hundred men, at seventy-five cents per day, and the discontinuance of the cabinet contract with W. I. Moses, at sixty-seven cents per day, have unavoidably lessened the earnings of the prison for the last year. A number of these men have been employed by the State in erecting the cells in the new wing, and in rebuilding the kitchen and store room, whose earnings do not appear in this report.

I found, when entering into office, that 350 men, nearly one-half of all the able-bodied men in the prison, had been let on contract for three years from July, 1868, to "J. Dunn, Jr., & Co.," for the purpose of manufacturing boots and shoes, at the low rate of forty cents per day. To fill this contract it was necessary to employ a number of men who had been earning much higher rates the year before.

All of which circumstances tend to lessen the receipts for convict labor during the year.

In addition to this there has been an increase of expenses by the large purchase of clothing and bedding, made necessary by the utter insufficiency of those in use upon my entry into office. During the year there has been let on shoe contract, to Messrs. Jaquith and Reed, seventy-five men at fifty cents per day, for one year, from August 1st, 1869. And twenty-five invalid men to "Messrs. Chappel, Parks and Pomroy" for the manufacture of flag horse collars, at thirty cents per day; this latter contract comprises a class of men who have heretofore earned very little if anything for the State.

I think it necessary to call your attention to the insecure condition of the cell door locks in the north wing; they being old and nearly worn out, have made it necessary to increase the number of guards on duty in that wing at night.

To all of the officers of the prison my thanks are due for their faithful co-operation in enforcing the rules of the prison and efficient services rendered in the discharge of their respective duties.

In conclusion, gentlemen, permit me to return to you my acknowledgment for the valuable advice and assistance I have received at your hands.

I have the honor to remain your most obedient servant,

ALLEN ROSS,

Agent and Warden.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

HOSPITAL, AUBURN PRISON, October 15th, 1869.Hon. Board of Inspectors :

The annual report of the medical department of the Auburn prison for the year ending September 30th, 1868, is respectfully submitted.

Not having re-entered upon the duties of physician to this prison since my leave of absence in 1861 to serve as a surgeon in the army till the first of February last, I can only speak of this department from personal knowledge of the last eight months; but by reference to the accompanying tables, the usual information in regard to the sanitary condition of the prison for the year is afforded.

There have been received into the prison for the year 424 convicts, of whom 121 were more or less diseased upon their entrance. There have been discharged during the year 425, of whom eleven were discharged by death. The average number of convicts for the year has been 951.

Of the deaths, six occurred in the first four months of the year, and five in the last eight months. Seven of the eleven who have died during the year were diseased upon their entrance to the prison. The daily per centage of serious or in-hospital sickness on number of convicts has been for the year 1 22-100 per cent. The yearly percentage of deaths on average number of convicts is 1 15-100 per cent. The deaths for the year have been 2 47-100 per cent of the in-hospital or serious sickness cases.

By table No. 4, which I have prepared from the prison records, it will be seen that the average annual death percentage for this prison since its opening in 1818, viz: for fifty-one years, is 1 86-100 per cent of the average number of convicts; but for the last ten years it is one and a half per cent only. The past year is below this average, being, as above stated, only 1 15-100 per cent.

The serious sickness percentages and death percentages have only been computed and reported in the annual reports from this department for the last three years. As these statistics are valuable, it is important that they should be correctly given. As there are evident errors in these statements in the annual reports of 1866, 1867 and 1868, I have computed them from the hospital records for those years, and give the two statements below :

				Corrected.
Statement in annual report of 1866; sickness percentage . . .	80-100			80-100
“ “ 1867; “ 5	13-100	1	90-100
“ “ 1868; “ 17	80-100		49-100
“ “ 1866; death percentage	43-100		43-100
“ “ 1867; “ 1	20-100	1	60-100
“ “ 1868; “	9-100	1	05-100

The average number of daily excuses from labor for this year, on account of sickness, have been eighteen, from an average number employed on contracts of 754, viz: 2 38-100 per cent.

The diseases prevailing in the prison for the past year, excepting some chronic affections, have been the same as those of the country immediately surrounding, viz: Malarial fevers, inflammations of the air passages, rheumatism, erysipelas, dysentery, diarrhœa and cholera morbus. The deaths, with two, and perhaps only one, exception, have resulted from chronic diseases, of which phthisis pulmonalis caused five, or nearly one-half the whole number. Seven of the deaths, or more than one-half, occurred in those who were diseased on their admission to the prison.

At the time of my entering upon the duties of physician I found serious deficiencies in the supply of vegetable food, of clothing and of bedding for the convicts, which were, however, remedied as speedily as possible by the agent, Mr. Ross.

The recent introduction of the excellent water of the Owasco lake into the prison, and the provision of hot and cold water, with conveniencies for the thorough washing of the whole person of each convict at least once a week, now nearly completed, must add greatly to the comfort and health of the convicts.

There is on foot an experiment, with an apparatus invented by the Rev. Mr. Bradshaw, of Vermont, for thoroughly preventing unpleasant and noxious effluvias from the night buckets, which I trust will soon be satisfactorily completed and furnish a relief greatly to be desired in this respect.

The question of the use of means to enforce discipline in the prison has, the past year, excited more than ordinary public attention, and its agitation has been accompanied with more than ordinary embarrassment to the officers responsible for subordination and steady labor by the convicts under their charge.

I am not aware that in any instance in this prison for the past year have the means resorted to for this purpose inflicted any serious injury upon the health of the convict subjected to them.

The performance of my duties has been rendered very pleasant to me by the uniform courtesy of the other officers of the prison, and especially so by the judicious and effective support of the agent. I have also to add my thanks for the kindness you, gentlemen, have shown me.

THEODORE DIMON,
Physician Auburn Prison.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

AUBURN PRISON, September 30th, 1869.To the Inspectors of State Prisons of the State of New York :

GENTLEMEN.—In presenting my annual report, nothing can be more becoming than to acknowledge, most gratefully, the kind providence of our Heavenly Father who has continued to us so many and great benefits.

The religious privileges and appliances furnished in this prison, are in part as follows :

At 7.45 in the morning of each Sabbath, a Sunday school is held in the chapel, superintended by the chaplain, and taught by some twenty teachers, mostly from the Theological Seminary, and a few Christian men from the city churches, who are well qualified for teaching. The number of convicts present is about 230, in the care of five keepers, and the very best order is preserved without any government on the part of the teachers. The school continues one hour. During this hour the choir are rehearsing in the library from which they come into the chapel in season to close the school by singing.

At 9 A. M., public service is held in the chapel, when all the convicts are present, with few exceptions, in the presence of the deputy, and some thirty keepers. At this service visitors from abroad and citizens of Auburn are present, in number from one to three hundred. The choir consists wholly of convicts, who with melodeon, clarionet, and double bass, sing to edification.

The services are according to the usages of ordinary congregations met for public worship. To the prisoners, this is the most interesting and pleasant hour of the whole week. Roman Catholic service is occasionally held for the accommodation of those who prefer that order of worship.

At 10.30 A. M., the chaplain holds a brief service in the hospital for the accommodation of those who are unable to meet in the chapel.

When death occurs in the hospital, the address on the following Sabbath has special reference to that event.

At two P. M., a like short service is held in the asylum for insane convicts; for a more extended notice of which, please see my report appended to the superintendent's report of said asylum.

From three to four o'clock Sabbath afternoon, the prisoners are visited at their cells, when a short time is devoted to each convict, in exclusive religious conversation, and the distribution of religious tracts. In this, the chaplain is assisted by ministers of the gospel, theological licentiates and others, so as to visit each cell once in two or three weeks. Religious instructions are continued through the week. The chaplain visits the hospital almost daily, for personal religious conversation with the sick, attends at noon in the mess room to say grace, and receives some twenty calls per day, for five days in each week, at his office, when a few words of advice, encouragement, or reproof are given to each, as time and opportunity permit. Special attention is paid to those who have just come into prison, and to those going out, to impress upon the former a strict observance of the rules of the prison, to give themselves at once to penitence and prayer, and resolve on leading a new life; and upon the latter to be on their guard against the influence of their old, picked associates, and their former sinful habits; and to such as have proved themselves worthy, to give a letter of introduction to some Christian pastor, or friend whom they may name, to encourage them in their resolves to lead a consistent and useful life. And I am happy to know that these religious counsels and attentions are not wholly lost upon them.

Our library, exclusive of Bibles, prayer books, and hymn books, numbers about 500. Two thousand of these are in a passably reading condition; the remainder in partially mutilated state, under repair. The Bibles are in English, German, and French, one for each convict. The volumes of the library are mostly duodecimos, some royal octavos, and a few eighteen mo's. They have been selected from the best publishing houses, moral and religious, historical, biographical, miscellaneous and scientific, mostly English with a suitable proportion of German and French. These books are taken to the several shops in numbers corresponding to the number of men in each shop, put into cases provided for their safe keeping, and drawn on Saturday of each week under the eye of the keeper, and are read by the convicts both in their cells and shops. The books are taken back to the library four times a year, repaired, changed, and returned in a few days, thus giving them as general circulation as possible. The convicts make a great use of the books. If deprived of them for a single week, which unavoidably occurs at the quarterly exchange, they become restless, and more than ordinarily troublesome; and to prevent this, we circulate a large number of tracts during this interval.

The five hundred dollars, appropriated by the Legislature at its last session, have been judiciously laid out for the most approved recent publications, and has, in part, repaired the waste which the library had suffered, for the want of a similar allowance of money during the previous year. An annual appropriation of three or five hundred dollars is indispensable to the good condition of the library; and nothing tends more directly to aid the discipline of the prison and to improve the moral condition of the prisoners, than a good supply of interesting books.

Three competent teachers have been employed during the year, who have taught for an hour and a half, between the hours of six and eight o'clock, for five evenings each week. They have met the chaplain in his office, monthly, and made their reports; and out of these monthly reports, the quarterly reports to your board have been made. Please find the teachers' reports hereunto annexed.

The correspondence between the prisoners and their friends is very great, and engrosses much of the chaplain's time. The nine hundred convicts, writing once in three months, including extra letters, written by permission of the inspectors and agent, send out an average number of seventy-six letters per week, and within the same time receive from their friends from one hundred and fifty to two hundred letters. The former have to be read, registered and mailed, and the latter read, labeled and delivered to the convict. This has been attended to promptly. And I permit me to acknowledge your favor in permitting Captain Kohler, whom I have found eminently qualified, to assist me in this department of my duties, and otherwise, and whose services I find so necessary that it is to be hoped that they will be allowed to be continued.

The discipline of the prison, if I may be permitted to allude to it, I find to be rigid, firm and effective. When it is considered that the subjects of prison discipline are taken from those classes of society made up of unrestrained children, never governed by their parents, undisciplined young men without discretion, and the "roughs" of our cities, whom no array of peace officers have been able to control, it is worthy of commendation that, by any degree of watchfulness and promptitude on the part of prison officers, so much order can be effected so soon, and preserved through long years of imprisonment.

The commutation law has a very favorable effect on the conduct of the prisoners, and it is worthy of consideration whether further legislation in that direction may not be desirable. But in order that the obedient and well-behaved may see and appreciate the benefits of such a law, the disobedient and rebellious must be held rigidly to the full measure of their sentence. As to the mooted question whether in prison discipline physical punishment can be wholly dispensed with, I would simply say that it may be when man has only a mental and moral nature to govern; but so long as he remains a physical being, legislation must have a respect to his physical sensibilities as well as to his mental and moral, and chastisement must be administered accordingly.

It is with great satisfaction that I find myself associated with officers, keepers and guards so attentive to their appropriate duties, so gentlemanly and respectful in their deportment, and ready to assist each other in the management of this State institution.

The agent and warden, Mr. Allen Ross, is an intelligent, prompt, business man; courteous to all, and alike popular with officers, keepers and guards, visitors, contractors and convicts. It does not become the chaplain (as it may the inspectors and agent,) to speak of the other officers, keepers and guards personally,—men who hazard their all, their limbs and life, to direct the labors and control the conduct of a thousand men, who could not be governed by any authority, human or divine, when at large, and thrust in here for safe keeping because they were too dangerous to have their liberty in peaceable society, requiring the presence of these men early and late, day and night, at their post, and to meet, unawares, menaces, dangers and death, without the least misgivings whatever—and all this for the peace and safety of the citizens of the most wealthy State of the Union, upon a salary too small to meet, in this city of notorious high prices, their monthly bills for family expenses. In consideration of services thus rendered to the State, further legislation, to increase their means for a comfortable living for themselves and their families, commends itself to the judgment of every intelligent citizen.

Gentlemen, in conclusion permit me to make my grateful acknowledgments to your honorable board for your kind offices, and for the prompt aid you have rendered me in the discharge of my varied duties; and especially for the respect shown me in my re-appointment to the chaplaincy of this prison in January last. While my services may be desired and my health and circumstances admit, I shall devote them exclusively to the duties of my office as

Your most obedient servant,

D. A. SHEPARD, Chaplain.

REPORT OF TEACHERS.

Rev. D. A. SHEPARD, Chaplain of Auburn State Prison :

Agreeably to your request, and in conformity to usage, I respectfully report that I have been acting as teacher in said prison since the middle of February last, a term of between seven and eight months.

That during said term I have given more or less instruction to over one hundred convicts, and that the average number of my pupils has been about seventy-five.

That I now have under tuition seventy-four, of which number there are :

Reading, only.....	15
Reading and writing.....	3
Reading and spelling.....	7
Cyphering, only.....	11
Cyphering and writing.....	9

Spelling, only.....	5

Spelling and writing.....	6
Total.....	74

And I further report that, their limited opportunities and facilities for study considered, most of my pupils have made fair, and some of them very good, progress.

That they have generally manifested a desire to improve their mental and moral condition, and have almost invariably been orderly in their conduct and respectful in their demeanor in my presence.

Respectfully submitted,

CHAS. J. HULBERT.

AUBURN, October 1, 1869.

Rev. D. A. SHEPARD, Chaplain, Auburn Prison :

SIR.—It has been my duty to see that a number of men, generally averaging sixty, received semi-weekly instruction in the several branches of reading, writing, spelling and arithmetic, as provided by law.

It affords me much pleasure to report that I have noticed an increased desire to give all attention possible to study and mental improvement.

With very few exceptions the interest manifested in the text-books and perfect recitation has not diminished during the summer months.

Many who were uneducated at the beginning of the year now have a fine start in arithmetic, read quite correctly, spell good, and command an intelligible handwriting.

Although laboring under disadvantages, none have appreciated the opportunities given them for instruction more than the convicts themselves.

I have found most of them prompt in recitations, and very thankful for instruction, giving the most satisfactory proof that the labor in this department has not been in vain.

Most respectfully submitted,

P. E. WYCKOFF.

Rev. D. A. SHEPARD, Chaplain Auburn Prison :

DEAR SIR.—In accordance with the law, and at your request, I respectfully submit the following report of my labor as teacher in this prison, since August 2d, of the present year.

I found sixty-five scholars in my division, who had been taught by my predecessor. The present number under tuition is seventy-one. This number has been variously instructed in reading, writing, spelling and arithmetic.

The greater number appear deeply interested in their studies, and their deportment has been orderly and respectful.

Yours respectfully,

GEO. N. SMITH.

Recommend the Legislature to pass an act to tax lands on line of Ellenburgh plank road to keep it in repair.

The total number of convicts remaining in this prison, on the 30th September, 1869, was 443. The number received during the year was 160. Number discharged 229; viz.: By pardon 14, expiration of sentence 10, commutation 177, order of court 3, escaped 14, died 6, sent to State Lunatic Asylum at Auburn 6. Average number of convicts during year 503.

In submitting to you my report, I think it but proper to remind you of the fact that I have been in charge of this prison but five months of the fiscal year ending September 30th, 1869. Notwithstanding your knowledge of the condition of the prison when I took charge of it, I deem it due to myself to allude to a few facts in connection therewith. I found the supply of bedding and clothing very deficient, in fact almost entirely unfit for further use, the clothing being nearly all worn out, and the bedding including blankets, ticking, &c., having been in use for a length of time that made its renewal necessary at once. The amount expended for these purposes alone was nearly equal to the difference between the expenditures of this and the previous year. Expenditures to the amount of about $4,000 were also made in making repairs, &c., to the agent's, and physician's and principal keeper's houses, and offices within the prison yard, being required to make them tenantable. Extensive repairs were also required and made to the railway from the mine to the ore kilns, to the nail mill, rolling mills, ore kilns, &c., causing an outlay in money and labor of at least $10,000. I found in the prison yard an accumulation of at least 20,000 tons of cinders and refuse, about one-half of which have been removed at a cost of $2,000 in cash, besides the labor of the convicts in loading the wagons, and the use of the prison teams in drawing out at least one-third thereof. I have succeeded in putting in good condition all the buildings in the prison yard, with a single exception, viz.: The building known as the State shop, in which is the chaplain's office, tailor and shoe shop, &c. This building having become so dilapidated I have deemed it advisable to make no repairs upon it, and will ask authority from you to erect in its stead, next summer, a substantial building, one that will fully meet the requirements of the business for which it will be occupied.

The roads in the vicinity of the prison, most of which pass through the State lands, were in a wretched condition. I have put extensive repairs upon them at a cost of about $2,500, and I am gratified to add that few smoother or better roads can now be found in Northern New York. The new plank road from the prison to the Ogdensburgh and Lake Champlain railroad, a distance of about fifteen miles, is nearly completed, less than one mile remaining unfinished at the northern terminus. Amount expended $10,285. This is one of the best plank roads ever constructed in the State. I have erected three new coal kilns, at a cost of about $6,000, which prove to be the best ever built upon the prison property.

The amount of iron produced by the forge for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1868, was 2,789 tons, against 2,503 tons for the present fiscal year, as follows: To seven months to May 1st, 1868, 1,345 tons, or 192 tons per month; five months, from May 1st, 1868 to October 1st, 1869, 1,158 tons, or 231½ tons per month. In explanation of this result, I will state that the forge was not in operation for about twenty-four days during the first three months of the present fiscal year. By comparison it is demonstrated that the forge has produced, during the last five months of the fiscal year, being the period I have had charge of the prison, over 1,300 lbs. of iron per day; more than was made during the five previous months, showing a total comparative increased product for that time, of about seventy-five tons.

The falling off in the manufacture of nails, in comparison with the previous year, was caused by the lying idle of the forge and consequent lack of iron to supply the nail mill, together with the fact that little iron was purchased during the present year, while during the previous year the amount of $10,841 was expended for this purpose.

The forge is now undergoing repairs and improvements, which, when completed, will increase its capacity so as to supply sufficient iron to keep all the nail machines of the factory in operation, a thing impossible to do with the present facilities for manufacturing iron at the prison forge. With these increased facilities, I feel confident that the produce of nails for the coming fiscal year will reach 47,000 kegs. This increase will be brought about without any additional increase of expenses for labor or superintendence; the only additional expense will be for coal and wood. I will here add that the nails now being manufactured, are equal to any in the market. In fact the reputation of the "empire" nails is now fully redeemed, and I am confident that it will not soon again suffer from causes which have heretofore existed in the manufacture of nails by prison labor.

For the coming fiscal year I estimate the cash receipts of the manufacturing department at from $50,000 to $60,000, over and above all expenses; certainly a favorable contrast with the showing of the present fiscal year.

In making up the manufacturing account, in the preceding tables, no statement is given of the amount of stock on hand at the close of the present fiscal year. But this will be found in schedule of appraisal. I have also omitted statement of stock on hand at close of previous fiscal year. These statements are omitted for the reason that the latter is erroneous and incorrect in many respects, and would only tend to mislead you as to the true financial condition of the prison at the periods named. To illustrate this, I will call your attention to a few facts: The appraisal for the previous fiscal year (ending September 30, 1868), shows 15,981 kegs of nails on hand, valued at $84,414. These nails were appraised at least one dollar per keg higher than their true market value, as is proven by the fact that they did not realize within $15,000 of their estimated value, caused by the decline in the price of nails, together with the inferior quality of the stock on hand. The appraised value of 16,280 cords of wood on hand at the close of the previous fiscal year, was $51,582. The appraised value of the wood on hand at the close of the present fiscal year, was ninety-six cents per cord less than the previous year; thus showing an excess of valuation in this item of $15,628. In the item of coal the difference in valuation between the appraisal of last year and the present is two dollars per hundred bushels, showing an excess in the appraisal of the previous year of $3,000 on stock of coal then on hand. Thus these three items alone show an over valuation of $33,928 upon the amount of stock on hand at the commencement of the present fiscal year. Besides these instances, I find, by reference to the books of the prison, that debts to the amount of several thousand dollars due from the prison to individuals were not taken into account in the appraisal of the previous fiscal year, and which were also omitted in the report of that year.

From these facts it will be apparent to you how difficult would be the task of giving anything like a correct statement of the financial condition of the prison for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1869, as compared with that of the previous year.

From the manner in which the accounts of the prison are now kept, I believe I am safe in giving you the assurance that in the future there will be no difficulty in exhibiting at all times its true financial condition in the minutest particular.

In presenting the foregoing statement of the financial transactions of the prison, I have departed from the custom of my predecessors of crediting the year's business with a class of expenditures called "Unavailable Earnings." These expenditures for the past year amount, in the aggregate, to over $25,000; and the greater portion of them, as in previous years, have been made to keep the property of the prison in working order, and to replace worn-out machinery and fixtures. A private manufacturer would hardly be satisfied with the year's business, which would not allow of such expenditures without encroaching upon his capital.

In the references I have made to certain items of expenses for the present fiscal year, and the decrease of the products of the manufacturing department, I distinctly desire to disclaim all intention of reflecting upon the previous management of the prison, having done so with the sole object of accounting in a measure for the deficiency chargeable against the prison for the fiscal year.

The discipline of this prison is surrounded by many difficulties, and cannot be maintained with the rigor and strictness of institutions where the inmates are congregated in different shops under the immediate eye and watchfulness of the officers. In the manufacture of iron, nails, nail kegs, mining, separating, burning and hauling ore, &c., &c., it becomes necessary for a large number of the convicts to pass from one point to another within the prison inclosure, in doing which it is impossible for the officers to keep them under their immediate surveillance; and it is from this cause that they are enabled to lay plans for escape and mischief. To this fact, combined with the necessity of night work, and the insecure manner in which the prison grounds are inclosed, is to be attributed most of the escapes during the present year. All these things are being remedied as far as is possible, and I am confident that we shall have but few if any escapes during the coming year. The general condition of the convicts in this prison is now most satisfactory. They are well clothed and amply supplied with good and wholesome food. They perform their work with extraordinary cheerfulness, and I venture to say there is not a penal institution in the whole country where there exists more contentment and order.

Accompanying this report will be found detailed statements of the various departments of the prison, embodied in the reports of the several officers having them in charge, to which I respectfully invite your attention.

In conclusion I desire to express my hearty thanks to the board of inspectors for the efficient aid they have at all times rendered me in the management of this prison.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

WM. C. RHODES,
Agent and Warden Clinton Prison.

I, William C. Rhodes, agent and warden of Clinton prison, do solemnly swear that the statements set forth in the foregoing report are just and true, according to the best of my knowledge and belief.

WM. C. RHODES.

Sworn before me, this 4th day } of December, 1869. }

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

CLINTON PRISON, September 30, 1869.To the Honorable Board of Inspectors of Prisons of the State of New York :

GENTLEMEN.—Conformable to law and custom, the following report is respectfully submitted :

Five months of the fiscal year passed before my entrance upon the duties of this office. Of that time I can only say that they appear to have been faithfully discharged by my predecessor, Rev. J. A. Canfield. The short period of my service admonishes me to be brief and cautious in my suggestions.

At the outset, it was my desire to be useful, and the few months of my experience here have only served to strengthen this desire. I have aimed to discharge my duties with firmness, yet in a kind and tender spirit. With the exception of two and a half weeks, in which they were left to the care of a competent clergyman, my personal attention has been constantly given to them, and I have found before me a field affording ample opportunity for earnest Christian and ministerial endeavor.

Attention to the correspondence of convicts requires considerable time and care. Two and a half days of each week are devoted to letter writing, and daily mails are received and read. The average of letters written and mailed is fifty-five per week, and of those received about seventy-five. Those received during the week are distributed, through the keepers, on Saturday night, when the men are locked in their cells. On the following Monday they are collected, returned to the chaplain's office, and filed, for reference, and for delivery to convicts on their discharge. Most of the letters are found very proper, and tending to preserve a suitable connection between the convicts and their respectable friends. Many of them contain the best counsel of loving hearts, whose language to the fallen is : "How can I give thee up ?" Any letters going out or coming in, which are found dabbling in political matters, or containing criminal news, indelicate, slang, or other improper language, or tending to create discontent, are strictly proscribed. For the guidance of all parties concerned a series of rules are printed on the first page of each sheet of the paper here used for the letters of convicts. A considerable number of the letters sent are written by special permission of the agent and warden or principal keeper. This privilege is extended to those only whose conduct is good. Its moral effect upon the discipline of the prison is healthful, and upon the favored very salutary, in reinvigorating self-confidence and in brightening their hopes of regaining, morally and civilly, that which they have so unfortunately forfeited.

Sabbath school and Bible class instruction is given Sabbath mornings, from nine to ten o'clock, in the presence of a suitable number of officers, and under my superintendence. Classes are formed mostly from those of the same company, and non-intercourse and strict order preserved. The exercises are singing, reading of scripture, prayer, scriptural questions designed to elicit biblical research during the week, and lessons from Bauvard's Topical Question Book. For this last exercise a few are found insufficiently advanced, and are therefore classed by themselves, and use as a text-book their day school readers or the New Testament, and are instructed by their day school teachers. Other classes are in charge of those whose services are purely voluntary, and who are deserving of credit for their efforts. The whole number enrolled is forty, whose attendance is regular. The school is prospering, and is accounted by its members a great privilege and a blessing.

Religious worship is held every Sabbath morning for one hour. All the exercises are therefore very short; nearly all, except the sick and those on necessary duty, are present regularly and listen attentively. The discipline of prison life, with some at least, has a salutary effect in leading the thoughtless to reflect upon their evil ways, and to prepare the mind for that reception of the gospel which leads to the paths of uprightness, purity and religion. While some, like "the fool, will not depart from their foolishness though brayed in a mortar, among wheat with a pestle," others receive, with humiliation, penitence and prayer, the correction of the law of God and man, and the grace which the gospel proffers. Consoled by the hopes the gospel inspires, some profess to see the hand of God in their painful circumstances, and bless Him who can "bring good out of evil." Men, who outside of these walls never prayed, have spent their first night in their lonely cell in prayer; and their orderly conduct and religious spirit have proved that they did not pray in vain. Men, who never before read or saw the Book of Life, have here perused its sacred pages, seen its adaptation to man's spiritual wants, received its teachings as divine, and, embracing its hopes, found that which alone satisfies the yearnings of the soul.

The vacant seats in the chapel are usually well filled by citizens. Much of the gloom of a prison congregation by their presence is dispelled and increased impressiveness given to the service.

Frequent visits are made to the hospital, and religious instruction and consolation given; Sabbath afternoons are spent in calling from cell to cell, to speak a few friendly words to all, and to give counsel and instruction to those who seek it, or who are favorably disposed. These familiar interviews appear to elicit kindly feeling to induce a free expression, on their part, of their moral and religious state. In them several have asked for prayer and more personal religious instruction than can be given in the congregation. Some such have in due time evinced conversion and appear as first fruit to cheer our toil.

The library is accessible to all. The mode of supplying books is at present the same as heretofore in use. By it the men draw every four weeks four books at a time. To this practice there are several objections. One serious one is that having so many books at a time they are not as well cared for and are more liable to be lost. The catalogue of the library shows 3,416 volumes. A count would probably reduce this number to less than 3,000. A repair shop is connected with the office. Each month books needing it, and worth the expense, are rebound or otherwise fitted up for recirculation. The appropriation of the last Legislature was judiciously expended by the agent and warden in the purchase of new books. Two hundred and sixty volumes of valuable works were secured. But the library is still deficient in scientific and historic works. Especially is this the case of the latter in regard to the history of our own country. Instead of a deficiency, there should be of these, and other standard works, duplicates. More Bibles are needed, especially in foreign languages. A new appropriation is therefore desirable and necessary to the highest usefulness of the library. About nine-tenths of the men read more or less. Nearly all are eager for books. Some are very studious and seek works of science and other substantial reading. The library is therefore a great blessing. It relieves the loneliness of the cell, controls and informs the mind, and induces quietude and contentment.

A few periodicals are allowed to be sent to convicts by their friends, such as the American Messenger, the Gospel Witness, Christian Intelligencer, Guide to Holiness, Youth's Companion, and Harper's Magazine.

The library cases are not sufficient to hold all the books. When even all the men are supplied with from two to four books each, the shelves are still crowded, and in some instances tiers are duplicated upon the same shelf. What is still worse, the chaplain's office, in which the library is kept, is too small to admit more cases. It is also otherwise too small for conveniences on book-drawing and writing days. Besides it is dingy, and out of repair out side and in. It is therefore earnestly hoped that the march of improvement, for the sake of appearance, utility and health, will secure better accommodations before another report is required.

For a concise view of the nativity, crime, place of conviction, term of sentence, age when convicted, previous occupation, habits, intelligence and social condition of convicts, you are referred to the tables accompanying this report.

With a deficiency of one teacher one month, the instruction of convicts has been pursued with diligence and success. Some who could neither read or write when they came, are now able to correspond with their friends in their own hand. For a more exact statement of the matter you are referred to the teacher's report.

With grateful acknowledgments to those assisting me in Sabbath and day school, to all the officers for courteous attention, to the principal officers especially for counsel and aid in the discharge of my duties, and to your honorable board for high considerations

I am very respectfully, and truly yours,

LEVI SMITH, Chaplain.

TEACHER'S REPORT.

To the Rev. LEVI SMITH, Chaplain of Clinton Prison :

The undersigned teachers of this prison, having been engaged only a part of the fiscal year, cannot vouch only for what has come under immediate instruction. But from consultation with our predecessors, we present the following as an exact report as can be obtained for the year ending September 30th, 1869 :

The number under instruction in the various branches is:

Arithmetic	112
Reading	50
Spelling	52
Writing	42

The total number of different pupils under instruction during the year..... 152

Many of these are pursuing more than one study ; all have advanced commendably ; some are very studious, and seem anxious to improve. As our limited time admits of our calling only on a small number each day, some have shown impatience at the delay of our visits ; all have received us courteously.

Yours respectfully,

HARMON REYNOLDS,
JEROME H. GAY,

Teachers.

CLINTON PRISON, September 30th, 1869.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

To the Hon. Board of Inspectors of State Prisons :

GENTLEMEN.—According to the requirements of the statute and custom, I present you with the following report of the medical department of this prison. This, my first annual report, includes only nine months of my incumbency. The material for the first three months is derived from a doubtful record, kept by my predecessor.

The report may be larger than authorized, or fall short of what is desired. In either case I crave your kind indulgence. If it is desired and contemplated by your honorable Board, that the records of the medical departments, of our several penal institutions, shall contribute to the advancement of the science, for preserving human life, then you will permit me to say that the preceding reports of the medical departments, are considered by medical statistis to be universally defective.

The statistical tables, I herewith submit to you, are much more detailed than those of former years. I made them so, because I believe, that by well ascertained facts, we may eliminate some hidden truth that shall contribute to throw a clearer light on the science of penal jurisprudence.

The adoption of a more complete and accurate classification, of diseases and casualties, to serve as penal, vital statistics, is respectfully advised. We can thus keep the medical department in harmony with the spirit of sanitary science, and aid in throwing more light on the relative and comparative health of our convict population. I have adopted the system pursued by the medical department of the United States Army, the same as followed by the Board of Health, of the city of New York, copied from the European statistis. The "necessity" of such statistics, analogous and comparable with the systems in use by other civilized nations, is too obvious to the penalogist to need argument.

Kind Providence has spared us from the ravages of epidemics. Judging from the anterior reports, a more than ordinary degree of health has attended us during the past year. This favorable sanitary condition is mainly to be ascribed to the diet list, which has been wholly revised. That wholesome reform became soon apparent by the diminished applications for medical treatment, which is a source of congratulation. It is obvious that the beneficial results obtained in the sanitary condition of our inmates is wholly due to the new dietary.

The total number of convicts in the prison September 30, 1869, was 443, of which number there were, comparatively sound.....	261
Afflicted with inguinal hernia, right	7
Afflicted with inguinal hernia, left.....	2
Afflicted with inguinal hernia, both right and left.....	1
Afflicted with loss of eye.....	2
Afflicted with anchylosis of joints	1
Afflicted with anchylosis of leg	7
Afflicted with anchylosis of arm	1
Afflicted with loss of fingers	4
Afflicted with development of scrofula.....	30
Afflicted with venereal disease in some form	17

The remainder are subject to disease in its various forms, too numerous to mention.

The whole number of applications for treatment were.....	4,911
The whole number treated.....	3,902
The number requiring treatment as hospital patients were.....	106
Recovered and returned to their shops and labor.....	100
Died in hospital.....	6
Of that number, died of apoplexy (Dr. Smith), after a few hours illness....	1
Died in consequence of wounds inflicted with knife by the convict Kelly...	1
Died of phthisis pulmonalis. (He entered the institution in the last stages of the disease; was at once received into the hospital, where he soon after died).....	1
Died, of phthisis pulmonalis, after a lingering illness.....	1
Died of peritonitis, after only a few days illness	1
Died of marasmus (insane), the remote cause of which was onanism.....	1

There can be no doubt but these unfortunate men entered the prison with damaged lives, having become so from previous irregularities, but in how much they were predisposed on their entrance, to the diseases which carried them ultimately to their graves, or how much the unavoidable circumstances of a depressing nature, connected with their prison life, may have been the cause of their death, there is no evidence. A careful record kept of the physical and mental condition of each person upon his entrance into this prison, together with a well kept register by the physician, would be of incalculable advantage; besides, it is my opinion, that each death should be traced with professional certainty to its origin.

Six of our inmates during the past year were found to be insane, and wholly unfit for prison discipline. Three of them were found by me in their cells on taking charge. Three others were at large. My attention was soon called to them, when I found that they manifested the most conclusive evidence of their unfortunate condition. They were, by your authority, removed to the asylum for the insane at Auburn. How many of them will remain hopelessly insane, time alone can tell, and I am of the opinion that self-abuse led to that deplorable result in most of these cases. "A remedy is a problem" that one day must be solved, however much we may procrastinate from motives of delicacy.

The number of casualties has been very small considering the vast quantity of machinery in and about the premises. We have, however, to record

Dislocations	2
Frost bitten	7
Fractures.....	4
Incised wounds	17
Punctured wounds.....	2
Contused wounds.....	74
Gunshot wounds.....	2
Lacerated wounds.....	3
Burns and scalds.....	82
All other injuries from accidental causes	54

A more limited use of the knife by the convicts would reduce the casualties considerably. I will admit that it is no easy task to prevent the possession of this weapon among them, considering the extraordinary facilities in this Institution for manufacturing them. It is barely conceivable what dangers they will meet in order to obtain possession of a knife. Still, in my opinion, it is not altogether impossible to limit their use, and in consideration of the grave and fatal injuries which may be traced directly to them. The attempt of removing the evil to indiscriminate possession of the weapon would be highly desirable; and while I am aware that they are prohibited, still there is a tacit consent which permits their possession. I therefore respectfully present the subject for your consideration, and also for your action, if you deem it of sufficient importance.

I have at regular periods examined the store and mess room, and have uniformly found the food of a good and wholesome kind, well and palatably cooked, the rations ample and liberally distributed, and, as previously intimated, much of the improved sanitary condition is due to the diet table.

The bedding and cells, on my arrival, were in a deplorable condition. Nothing short of a thorough renovation of bedding and blankets could be thought of. The whole of this important matter was accomplished by order of the Agent and carried out by the efficient and intelligent assistance of the hall keeper. Each inmate is now provided with a sufficiency of blankets. The cells are well cleaned and wholesome, being whitewashed repeatedly. The hall is well ventilated, and leaves nothing to be desired that would tend to the comfort and health of the convicts. The want of proper clothing, which was sorely needed, has been promptly supplied, and is now sufficiently ample to guard the convict from the inclemency of the weather. The hospital, also, has been thoroughly renovated. The bedding, sheets, blankets and mattresses at the time I took charge were in a most dilapidated state. These were all supplied with the utmost alacrity by the Agent, to whom I am indebted for many favors and much advice.

The laboratory was empty of drugs; the whole has been renovated and supplied with necessary and reliable medicines.

The discipline of the prison is under the special management of Mr. Charles Richardson, the principal keeper. Since the abolition of the shower bath, by the Legislative action of the last session, the punishments have been reduced, at least, sixty per cent. Infractions of discipline are comparatively rare now. By order of the agent and warden, a milder punishment has been introduced. Every act of disobedience or infraction of discipline is thoroughly investigated; the punishment is carefully considered and intelligently administered by the agent and principal keeper, with a wise and honorable severity, but with swift and vigorous certainty. This generous sense of discipline, at once wise and humane, but firmly and impartially administered, never based upon meanness or fear, but for the sole and determined purpose to curb the obstinate, stubborn and insubordinate, has had the most beneficial effect upon the convicts. They know what they have to expect if they commit a breach of the few and well defined rules of the prison. He who knows anything of the peculiarities of the convict, knows that is not the remote chance of indiscriminate punishment that deters him from breaking or disobeying the prison discipline, but the more constant disagreement of vexatious and irritating rules. It is a matter of no small congratulation to the humitarean and the philanthropist to know, that some time past, I have observed the absence of that peculiar doggedness manifested in the convict, and which makes him so stubborn, and involves, always, more the spirit of resistance than the spirit of assault.

The pulleys and the dark cell are the only modes of punishment in this prison, and while the former is not free from objection, still, it is the best that can be desired with our present system. The latter will form the subject of a few observations, and if it is the duty of the medical officer, as I understand them, to resolve itself into aims of prevention, then clearly the dark cell, as a mode of punishment, should, in my opinion, become a matter of "record." The principle of discipline in our prisons has long been "punishment," the proper principle should be "prevention." A good system is directive. The dark cell as a means of punishment, from a sanitary point of view is objectionable, because dangerous to health in the highest degree. As a temporary expedient however it may not be so; but as a means to induce the stubborn convict into obedience, it is an utter failure and of no avail. He who remains in the same frame of mind, after days of incarceration, who shows no contrition, or repentance, for such, the dark cell is but ill adapted. The ventilation is "nil," the doors prevent air and light to enter. There reigns in them, after a few hours occupation, a sickening odor, which aggravates the dangerous effluvia of the buckets, into which the occupant is obliged to satisfy the demands of nature. They are obliged to breathe, over and over again, the same air, tainted with the dangerous elements of the excrements, which becomes poisonous for the want of oxygen. The strongest man must yield his health in such an atmosphere. Man must have air and light. "The life is the blood," and if the blood is vitiated, the health becomes impaired. The diet is scanty, a small modicum of bread his only food. The cold, and often the wet stone his bed, he is condemned to absolute idleness, passes his days and nights, recumbent or sitting, in a heavy drowsiness. You have put him in under the most favorable circumstances, with a frame already prone to yield from the relaxed tissue to the development of incipient diseases, besides, if we take into consideration that the larger number of our convicts are only a mass of damaged lives. No wonder that here the seeds of chronic diseases originate, and which carries them ultimately to their graves. Still he does not yield; he is just as obstinate after all this suffering, his purpose just as strong as when he entered the dark cell. What is the result? Mark it well! His health gives way, we find him pale as death, pulse nearly gone, weak as a child and tottering, the light blinds him, the fresh air stupefies him. We are obliged to interfere; we are made to give way. A fatal policy in prison discipline. It makes us weak, and produces a turbulent convict population. We should never give way; we should never put ourselves in a position to give way. We should provide for changes as circumstances demand.

I find it difficult, if not altogether impossible, to so manage as to preserve the health of the delinquent, and at the same time maintain the necessary discipline of the prison. In view of these facts, will your honorable Board pardon me for calling their attention to this matter in order to obviate this great difficulty. The statute provides for the building of punishment cells for the confinement of the insubordinate and habitually refractory. It is a fact well authenticated by those who are practically acquainted with the administration of prison discipline, that much of the restraint might safely be dispensed with, if three or four per cent could be removed to punishment cells, constructed as contemplated by the Legislature. These few men are therefore the cause, in some sense, of unnecessary restraint to the ninety-six. Besides this, all rebellions and violations of discipline, assaults on, and murder of prison keepers, are committed by this small and well ascertained class of prisoners.

I may be accused of speculative innovation by calling your attention to this great and important want; but it can never be contemplated by your honorable Board, that we should give our quiet adherence to the things that are, and therefore should remain. The public economist, the moralist and philanthropist, claim this boon from your honorable Body, giving, if not the moral, at least the physical blessing of health to these pariahs of society. The only capital in the world they possess after their release is health. Let this fail, the State must provide for them, because, "they must steal to eat," they have no strength left to work, and return to us with still more damaged lives. Is it not therefore of sufficient importance to construct punishment cells, in which to confine the dangerous and incorrigible. I most earnestly call your attention, to the important want of the facilities for general bathing. It is one of the important necessities, and I may say indispensable measures for the sanitary arrangements of a penal institution. The bath is not only a complement of precaution which insures cleanliness, but has an effect at once quieting, refreshing and strengthening; and the free ablution is, perhaps, more needed here than in other penal establishments, because of the labor our inmates are engaged in is necessarily accompanied with a large amount of transpiration, and the particles of dirt with which the atmosphere is charged and permeated, consequent on our peculiar labor, and which accumulates for want of proper means to remove. It is inconceivable what a varnish of effete matter and filth is observable on their whole body, not only disgusting to the sight and demonstrably obstructive to exhalation from the skin, but highly dangerous to health. I have no hesitation in averring that the want of general bathing facilities is a fertile source inducing the most favorable condition for the development of disease.

The attention of your honorable Board is called to an evil which I hope will deserve your consideration. It consists of the indiscriminate distribution of clothing. The changes are made as follows: After being but imperfectly washed, because the officer who has charge of that department cannot, with the best intention on his part, insure it from remaining saturated with foul and unwholesome emanations. In that state they are distributed without reference as to whom was the previous wearer. The clothes are promiscuously distributed. They may be clean as circumstances permit, still they may have been worn by men who are afflicted with all kinds of transmissible skin diseases. They may still be impregnated with effete matter, strikingly manifest to the senses. This should not be. Apart from a sanitary point of view, this is in every respect objectionable. Such a practice can only be souring to the minds of some men. Of all the paraphernalia of prison life, the striped apparel, the narrow cell, its labor, its crowded lock step, its stern discipline, the compulsion of wearing the shirt of another still reeking with the fowl acid exhalations to the naked skin surpasses them all. This punishment is not merited and makes it galling, and is the utmost refinement of cruelty. It cannot be but irritating to their nature, and, in my opinion, does no credit to the spirit that extorts it. A little internal management would obviate this unnecessary hardship; and your well known desire to alleviate the many sorrows of these unfortunates, your generous wish not to make their position worse than necessary, will, I am at once convinced, remedy this unfavorable state of things.

The want of a padded cell is greatly felt, and is of the utmost importance to be used as a temporary room to confine those unfortunate convicts who are subject to epilepsy. They deserve our highest sympathy. Their infirmity is a terrible calamity. These poor men while in a paroxysm of their malady inflict upon themselves the most serious injuries, lacerating and confounding their own flesh in a most dreadful manner. A padded cell, with comparatively a small cost, would be a great boon to these sufferers, and do credit to your well known humanity.

The lack of proper instruments is sorely felt, too often in this institution, and it seems to me a very abnormal state of things, that the physician should not be supplied by the State, with a complete armemarium for his needs. It should be supplied as soon as practicable.

The structure, used at present as a tailor shop, is in a very dilapidated state; it is merely a shed attached to the back portion of the chaplain's office. The water at certain times of the year pours into it from the adjacent heights. It is situated at the foot of a hill, and when a break occurs in the aqueduct, the water from the separator rushes in the shop, and remains stagnated below, producing unhealthy emanations. Always damp and cold in the winter, there is no ventilation, it is unhealthy, not only from the want of drainage, but all the washing for the prison is performed in the same room, a very imperfect partition dividing it. Of all the baneful influences, and of all sources of disease, none is more detrimental and fatal than the circumstances that surround that shop. Besides the filthy facilities that unavoidably exist, the earth below being constantly saturated with water, so that the building gradually sinks. Considering that twelve hours of the twenty-four, are passed in such an apartment for years, the injury to health is too self-evident to need much comment. The building is in every particular objectionable and requires your attention.

In conclusion, without instituting a comparison of the past and present condition of this prison, both as to its sanitary and internal management and discipline, through the watchfulness of Mr. W. C. Rhodes, the agent and warden, and judicious government, to the courtesy and competency of the clerk, the harmonious and prompt action of the principal keeper and his subordinates, the mild but impartial discipline, with the few punishments on record, the material wants of the convicts so well supplied, is such as to command the respect and the confidence of all.

To you, gentlemen, allow me to tender you my heartfelt thanks for the uniform kindness you have shown me since my appointment as physician to this institution. To Mr. Rhodes, the agent and warden, I tender my gratitude and thanks for the very many acts of kindness, for his efficient help, and his correct judgment in assisting me to carry out the sanitary arrangement of the prison. To the principal keeper I also tender my warmest thanks for the prompt and efficient manner he has always evinced in assisting me to carry out my duties.

I am, gentlemen, your most obedient servant,

ARTHUR S. WOLFF, M. D.,

Medical Officer in charge.

By inspection of the foregoing tabulated statement of the financial affairs of the asylum, it may be seen that the expenses of the last twelve months have been very much reduced.

The disbursements for the year ending September 30th, 1868, were seventeen thousand eight hundred and seventy-six dollars and sixty-one cents; while those for the year just closed were thirteen thousand nine hundred and fifty-four dollars and ninety-two cents, showing a reduction of three thousand nine hundred and twenty-one dollars and sixty-nine cents. This difference would not have been so great but for a supply of coal which had been secured and paid for in the disbursements of the previous year. The amount expended for said coal was one thousand three hundred and thirty-nine dollars and thirty-four cents, which, added to our actual amount of outlays, would make fifteen thousand two hundred and ninety-four dollars and twenty-six cents.

Table No. 10 exhibits the entire cost for maintenance, of each inmate for each week during the year, at an average of three dollars and thirty-seven and one-third cents. This is less than it has been at any time since the year eighteen hundred and sixty-three.

I need not here call your attention to any detail of our finances, for they have been accurately specified to you in my monthly reports. I respectfully refer you to them for any further required information.

I have, in my last report, called your attention to the preliminary arrangements made for the introduction of a supply of water for general purposes of the asylum, and especially with reference to any calamity resulting from fires. Two serious conflagrations having occurred during the last year within the prison walls adjoining us, should be a sufficient admonition of the necessity for a complete provision for every possible emergency. I therefore again recommend an immediate perfection of our anticipated plans and urge the propriety of an appropriation for the further laying of pipes, and the purchase of one thousand feet of fire hose and other appurtenances requisite for our future safety and protection.

I would also, in this connection, repeat my recommendation that a similar provision be made for repairs upon the roofing and cornices of the buildings, as well as for a relaying of some of the floors, and a complete repainting of all the outside wood work of the Asylum. I need not here enter upon any specification of the great necessity of these extraordinary repairs upon a structure which has now stood for more than ten years, and must unavoidably require some outlays for its preservation. In my reports for the last seven years I have so often spoke of the propriety of an enlargement of our capacities as an institution, that I deem it unnecessary again to set forth the reasons for the same further than to simply state that our number of inmates has become so great that we must positively refuse admissions until vacancies occur, or so extend our accommodations as to meet the requirements of new laws which have been enacted and which will force upon us patients for which without such extension we shall have no possible provision. Our present number of bedrooms is sixty-four and we have seventy-nine patients, making fifteen more than we can properly accommodate with sleeping rooms. In this emergency we are forced to make use of the halls as additional dormitories, and this, too, with no small risk to the patients, as several instances of violent assault have occurred among those who are thus congregated during the night. I recommend that measures be taken as early as practicable to make such addition to our buildings as will be sufficient to provide for our immediate necessities, as well as those wants which will surely come hereafter. A law passed by the last Legislature will sufficiently warrant me in this recommendation. The enactment provides that all persons in the several counties of the State who are charged with the crimes of murder or arson and found to be insane at the time of trial, or are acquitted on the ground of insanity existing at the time of the committing of the act, may be sent to either of the New York State Lunatic Asylums or to the State Asylum for Insane Convicts; and the law further provides that on the presentation of the Superintendent of any of said State asylums, the judges of the county in which such asylum is located may order the transfer of any patient from said asylum to the asylum for insane convicts, provided such patient has been arraigned for either of the crimes of murder or arson. If this law is to be complied with, we must readily see the necessity of an immediate enlargement of our institution.

I here take occasion to again suggest that the salaries of the attendants of this asylum be increased so far as to make them equal to the maximum amount paid in any of the institutions for the insane in this country. Their duties, as I have said in a former report, are confining, and I recommend the rule adopted in some institutions, of making their salaries proportionate to the value of services rendered, and to the length of time they have remained in the employ of the asylum.

Of the general condition of the patients during the year, I have nothing unusual to report. Four have died with pulmonary consumption, and one from general debility resulting from protracted mental disease existing for eight and a half years in this asylum, and for some time previous in the asylum at Utica. I am happy to state that we have had no prevailing diseases during the year, and very little need of medical treatment beyond that necessary for their mental maladies. The usual amount of manual labor has been performed by the inmates throughout the various departments of the house as well as about the garden and grounds, the stable, wash house, soap house and work shop. Whenever they could be employed, they have rendered useful services with great cheerfulness and with a manifest desire for laborious exercise.

Customary religious services have been observed in our chapel on each Sunday, with few exceptions, throughout the year. My acknowledgments are due to the chaplains who have officiated on those occasions for the propriety with which they have addressed themselves to this peculiar class of hearers. I respectfully refer you to the hereto annexed report of the Rev. D. A. Shepard, our present officiating chaplain.

On the first of April last, the office of assistant and clerk held by Mr. H. A. Smith having become vacant, Mr. William V. Miller was appointed to succeed him and has been the incumbent since that time. For the aid he has rendered me I desire here to express to him my thanks, as well as to the other officers and employees who have assisted me in their several departments.

In conclusion permit me, gentlemen, to renew my grateful acknowledgments to yourselves for your continued kindness. With a heartfelt desire for the promotion of the best interests of this especial charity of the State, I beg leave respectfully to submit this report.

CHARLES E. VAN ANDEN,

Medical Superintendent.

STATE ASYLUM FOR INSANE CONVICTS, AUBURN, Nov. 30, 1869.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

ASYLUM FOR INSANE CONVICTS, November 30th, 1869.To the Honorable Board of Inspectors :

GENTLEMEN.—Since January last, I have conducted divine service in the State Lunatic Asylum for Insane Convicts, every Sabbath at two p. m., when practicable.

The services are according to the usages of ordinary religious assemblies, differing only in their simplicity and brevity. There are in attendance, uniformly, about seventy convicts. The chappel will accommodate some ninety persons, and is furnished with a good supply of hymn books, which are distributed by the assistant to those of the congregation who can use them, and many of the more quiet join gladly, with rather confused harmony, in this part of worship, and their discords are so far controlled by the superintendent's melodion and the voices of the officers, that they are not offensively perceptible. The superintendent and keepers being always present, any momentary irregularity that occurs is at once so far controlled that we have no difficulty in conducting the services. These lunatics, demented in various degrees, are rendered more quiet, seem much pleased, and, we hope, in some degree, are profited by these chapel services.

On Wednesday of each week they are furnished with such books for reading, as are adapted to their varied conditions, and calculated to effect a mental and moral improvement.

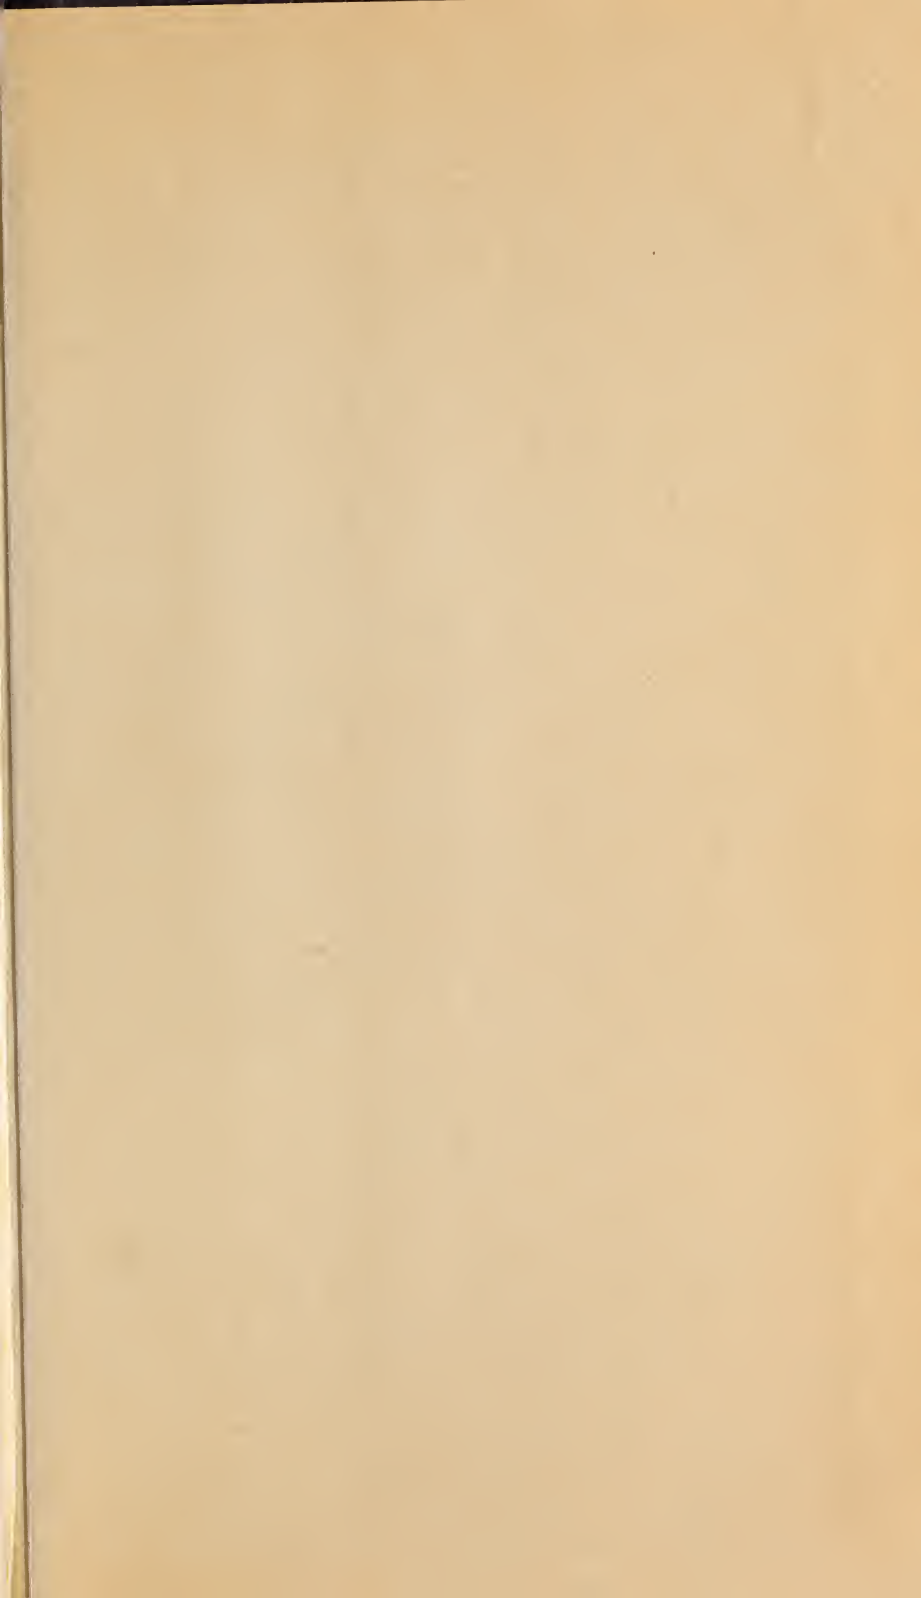

Their pleasant, well ventilated halls, their cleanly and comfortable lodging rooms, their generous, wholesome diet, together with the delightful pleasure grounds, and their recreations in the "exercise yards," all tend to lessen their sufferings and improve their health.

Add to this the humane, vigilant discipline exercised over these demented, erring men, by an ever present medical superintendent, keepers and waiters, and the annual liberal appropriations made by the State, and we have presented to view a noble charity worthy of an enlightened Christian nation.

D. A. SHEPARD,
Chaplain.
